Unlock the value of a flourishing workforce

Together, let's build a wellbeing programme to leave your workforce feeling fit, well and fired up about staying healthy.

The true value of wellbeing

A well-rounded, effective wellbeing programme is key to helping build a resilient, high performing and successful organisation.

It's good for your people...

Providing employees with the right support, both in and out of work, can make a world of difference. In our 2024 UK mind health workplace report, we found that those who believed their company cares for the mental health of its employees and is taking action to help them were almost twice as likely to have flourishing mind health.¹

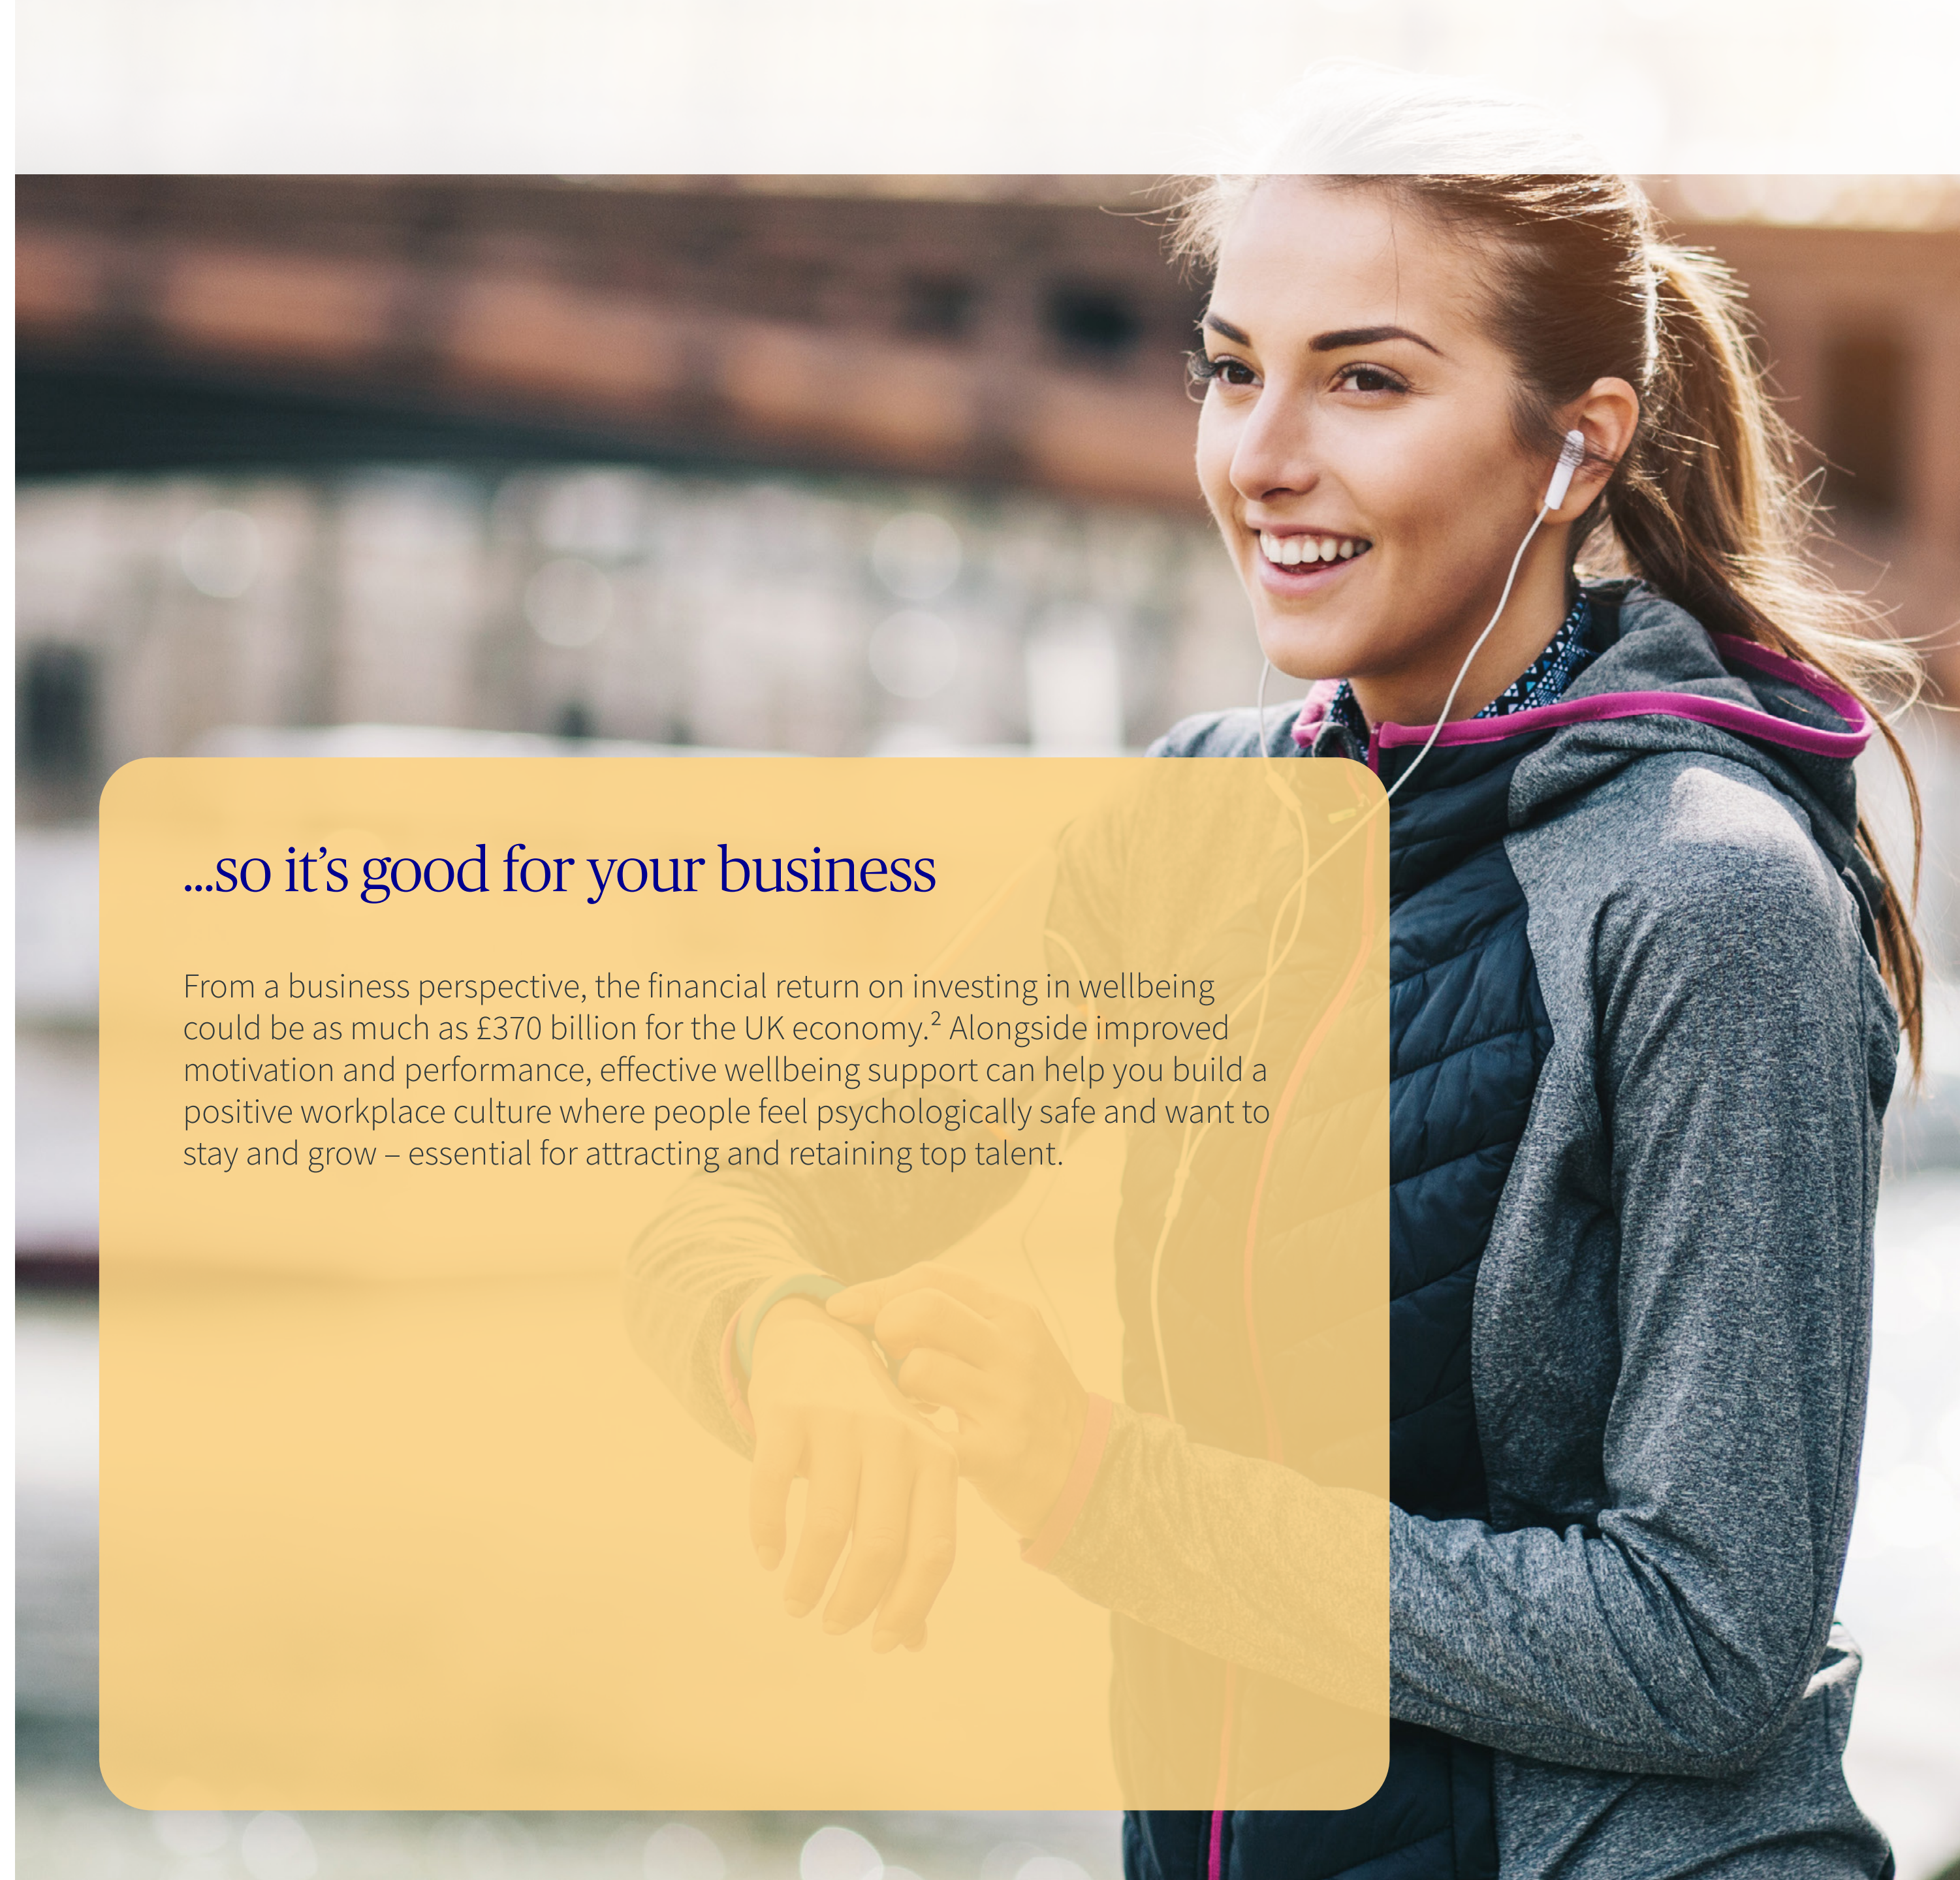

Your wellbeing strategy can empower you to support an ageing workforce, tackle inequalities and help build a healthier, more inclusive team where every employee feels seen, valued and able to flourish.

And any effective wellbeing programme should include training and support for line managers and leaders, creating a ripple effect of positive outcomes.

¹AXA Health 2024 UK mind health workplace report - AXA Mind Health Study was conducted between 15 October – 15 November 2023 in 6 countries among representative samples of the population aged 18–75 in each country (1,000 in each) ²Business in the Community (BITC) – McKinsey Health Institute research 2023 ³ AXA UK and Centre for Economic and Business (Cebr) research 2023 – based on data and statistics from 16 different studies and reports with UK participants. Data from external sources such as OECD statistics and local statistical agencies were used to estimate the average number of sick days taken by workers in each country

...so it's good for your business

From a business perspective, the financial return on investing in wellbeing could be as much as £370 billion for the UK economy.² Alongside improved motivation and performance, effective wellbeing support can help you build a positive workplace culture where people feel psychologically safe and want to stay and grow – essential for attracting and retaining top talent.

Together, let's build wellbeing your way

Working together, for the good of everyone

With AXA Health, you and your people are in safe hands. We have more than 80 years of health and wellbeing experience, strong provider relationships and a wealth of expert-led products and services to our name. Combined with our commitment to put people's health first, we'll help you tailor a wellbeing programme that supports every employee, wherever they are on their health journey.

Customise your existing wellbeing strategy by adding the services you need or form an annual targeted plan by combining multiple services. Together, let's help your employees make informed, healthy choices and take ownership of their wellbeing.

Looking to the long term? Let's build a shared wellbeing ambition for your business and together we'll review your programme and guide you for year-on-year improvement.

A well-rounded wellbeing strategy

Our clinically backed, holistic approach helps your employees receive the support they need, along with the tools and resources to manage their health with confidence. Supporting Mind. Body. Life.

For companies big and small, you can choose to select specific services to target priority health trends, or we can work with you to build your fully crafted programme that helps you deliver a well-rounded wellbeing strategy.

Our wellbeing services are carefully designed to:

1 Engage and educate

From live webinars to training courses, we'll help you create a supportive environment where wellbeing is part of the everyday conversation.

2 Assess and guide

Help your people gain a better understanding of their health with health assessments, coaching services and mental health guidance.

3 Intervene and support

Provide your people with the wellbeing support services they need to navigate life's challenges.

Ultimately, we're here to help you support prevention, inspire healthy behaviours, and to be there when it matters.

The right health and wellbeing support. Anytime. Anywhere.

A personal experience

Wellbeing starts with awareness of our own health. Successful support requires engagement, inspiration and ease of access. Whether you have an Employee Assistance Programme or a wellbeing programme with us – your teams will be able to access a rich range of wellbeing support in one convenient place, online or through our AXA Health app, and with corporate private healthcare cover via the AXA Health app.

Includes:

- ✓ Videos, articles and learning modules
- ✓ Online workouts for mind and body
- ✓ Health Score – an online assessment to build health understanding¹
- ✓ Manager guidance and support.

Access to online wellbeing support and wellbeing services within the AXA Health app, powered by Spectrum.Life

Employee Assistance Programme (EAP)

The right support at the right time

Life can bring plenty of challenges. From day-to-day struggles to significant events, everyone needs somewhere to turn when things get too much. Meeting the different, complex needs of a diverse workforce in today's world needs a fresh approach.

Employee Assistance Programmes need to evolve and ours goes the extra mile. Whether an employee needs help forming healthy habits, or they're dealing with stress, anxiety or personal issues, our EAP supports whole health and offers confidential guidance to them and their family.

Powered by Spectrum.Life

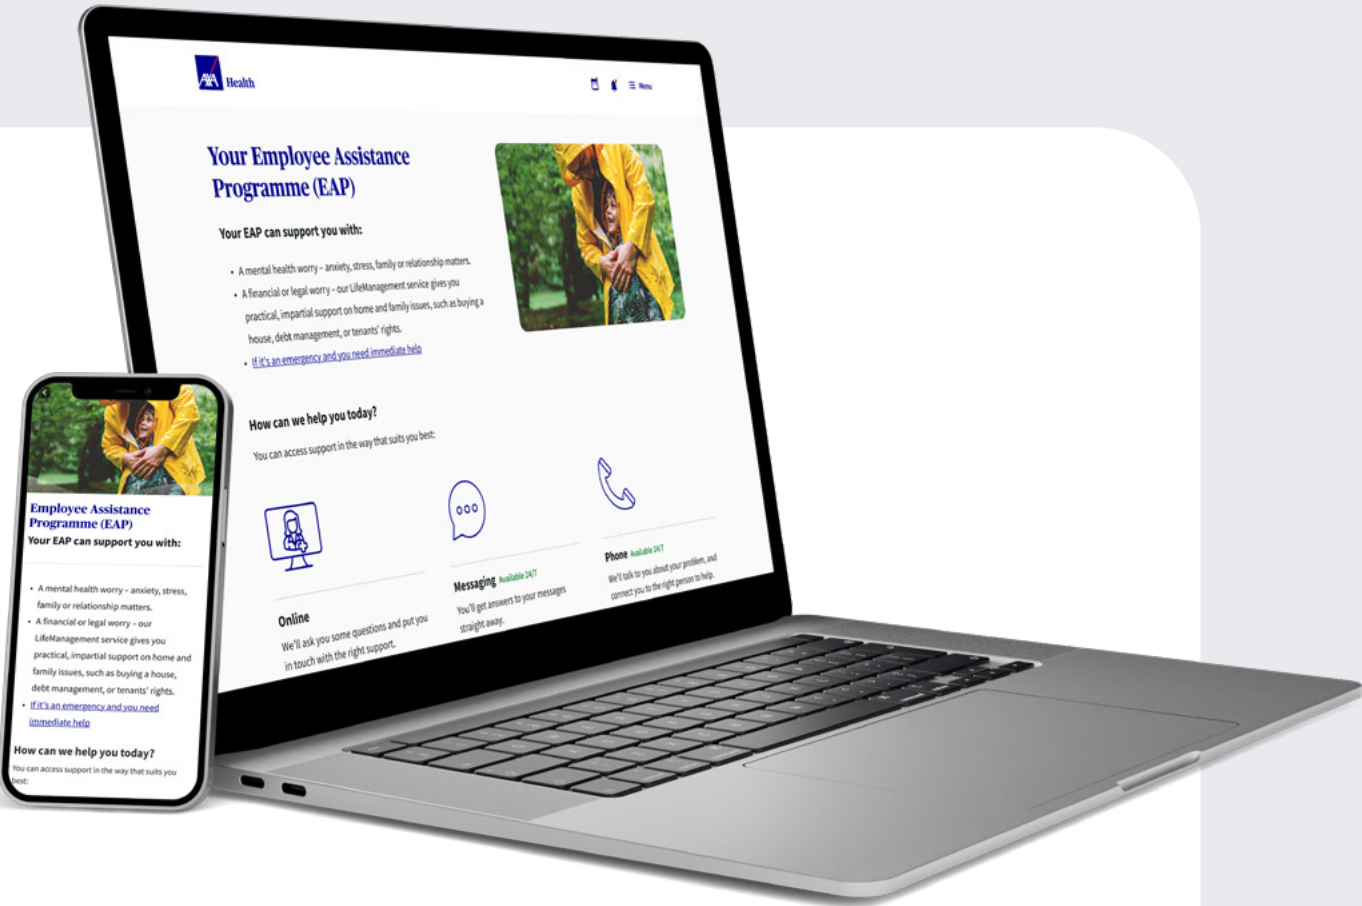

9 Unlock the value of a flourishing workforce

Access to a team of more than 100 clinicians within the client care counselling team and an extended affiliate network of more than 2,500 mental health practitioners and counsellors.

EAPs that put your people first

Choose between our Essential and Premier EAPs to find the right fit for your business and make wellbeing part of the everyday conversation. We believe that an EAP needs to prioritise the needs of the individual, connecting them to the right support and inspiring them to adopt healthy habits, stay in control of their health and keep moving forward on their wellbeing journey. Our EAP services include:

In the UK, only in-the-moment support is available for dependants. Full service delivery for employees aged 16 and over.

We can include pricing terms for full access for dependants at quote stage.

¹Our 24/7 health support line includes nurses available 24/7, 365 days a year. Pharmacists and midwives are available Monday to Friday, 8am to 8pm, Saturday 8am to 4pm, and Sunday 8am to 12pm.

AXA Doctor at Hand

A fast, easy way to see a GP

AXA Doctor at Hand, powered by Doctor Care Anywhere, is a private online GP service that gives all your people easy, convenient access to expert guidance for a range of health concerns.

Available as a standalone service, employees can see a GP or an Advanced Clinical Practitioner whenever they need, wherever they are. AXA Doctor at Hand helps people overcome the challenges in accessing primary care support, giving them fast access to online medical advice and reassurance, as well as the option of prescriptions delivered to their door.

What's included

- ✓ Appointments available 24/7 by video or phone.
- ✓ A choice of online GP or Advanced Clinical Practitioner appointments.
- ✓ Prescriptions made easy, delivered straight to the office, their home or a local pharmacy – whatever's easiest.
- ✓ Accessible online and in-app – wherever, whenever.

Important information:

Availability – Subject to appointment availability

Prescriptions – Available in most circumstances. Prescriptions are only available in the UK. Outpatient prescriptions and delivery are not covered by the healthcare scheme, if they have one, and may cost more than on the NHS.

Referrals to specialists – If they have as part of their healthcare scheme, any outpatient limits or employee contributions normally made towards treatment will apply. All referrals and treatment recommended are on a private basis. The GPs and Advanced Clinical Practitioners are unable to refer to the NHS. The right cover needs to be in place for onward treatment to be eligible.

A seamless onward journey

AXA Doctor at Hand can integrate well with any AXA Health corporate healthcare scheme, bringing a seamless onward journey to your workforce. Onward referrals can be offered within three working days via our specialist appointment booking team or our online assessment services. Talk to an account manager today.

How it works

- Employee answers a few questions about their health concern.
- The next available appointment will be offered to see a GP or an Advanced Clinical Practitioner.
- The consultation takes place, by video or over the phone.
- Advice, medication or a specialist referral is provided where appropriate.

Business benefits

- Support early intervention.
- Valued benefit across your entire workforce.

For AXA Health Advance corporate healthcare schemes, AXA Doctor at Hand is included as standard.

Health assessments

The insight to change things

Many of us let our own health slip down our list of priorities. But the longer an employee ignores certain symptoms or remains unaware of a potential health risk, the more likely they are to experience ill health in the future. This can impact their wellbeing and motivation in the long run, which can have a knock-on effect on your business.

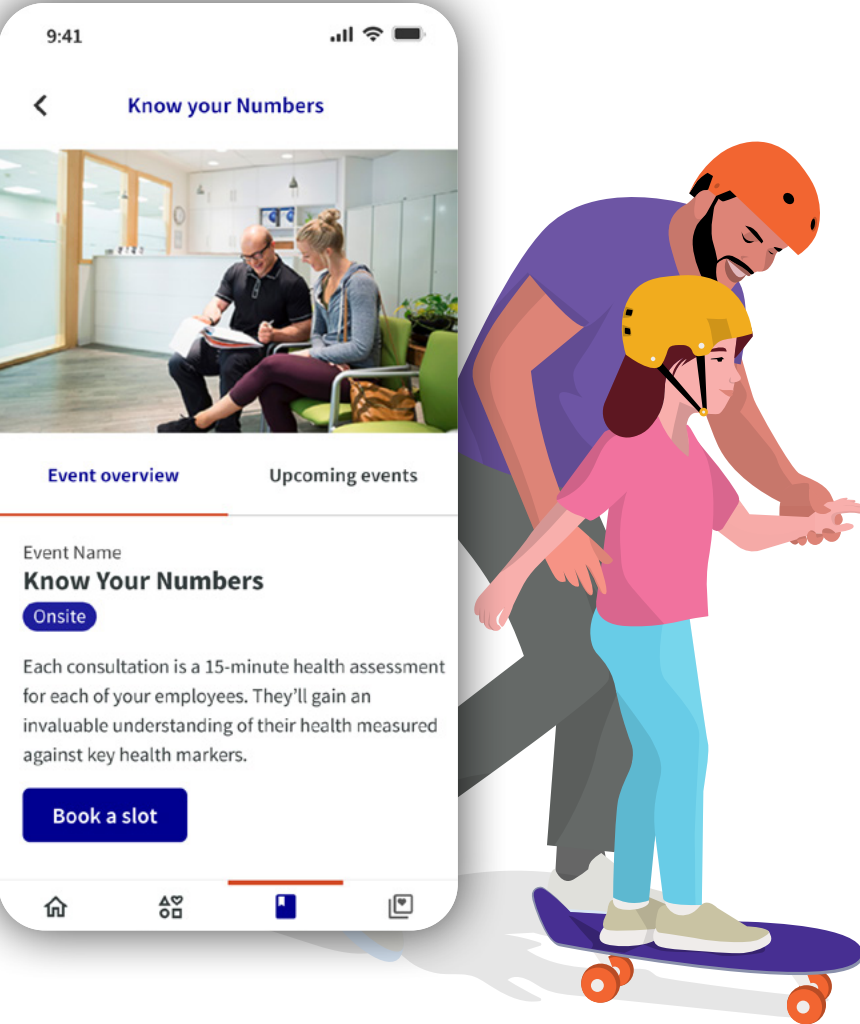

Our health assessments offer you affordable and scalable ways to build health awareness – at work or remotely for those at home. This makes it easier for employees to see where to focus their efforts now, which can help them avoid certain complications in the future.

Connecting your employees to better health

If any health risks show up during their consultation, a qualified physiologist will suggest some actions your employee can take. They'll be guided back to all available support, whether that's online, via our app, through an Employee Assistance Programme or on into health coaching if available.

Powered by Spectrum.Life

Available health assessments include:

On average, employees who completed an AXA Health coaching programme saw a 4% weight reduction and 12% cholesterol reduction.

Cumulative health outcomes from 729 tests delivered by AXA Health physiologists between January 2020 and January 2024.

Health coaching

Help your people take action

Designed for those who have had health risks identified and need some extra help to make positive lifestyle changes, health coaching and mental wellbeing coaching empower employees to live healthier lives. Whether they want to adopt healthy habits, manage stress, eat more healthily, start exercising or target a known health risk, they'll receive informed guidance and lifestyle support to help them take action.

Our Know Your Numbers assessments, wellbeing consultations and digital Health Score assessments act as a springboard towards onward support when it's needed. Following one of these assessments, an employee can be made aware of dedicated health coaching or mental wellbeing coaching. Whether the support they need is in mind, body or life, they'll work with their coach to explore what help they need and analyse both their motivations and barriers to better health.

With these coaching services, your people get:

- ✓ support every step of the way
- ✓ personal, one-on-one health coaching online or by phone
- ✓ the knowledge they need to make positive changes that last
- ✓ easy access to appointments, updates and messages with their coach, online or via the AXA Health app.

Options include:

Health Coaching – 12 weeks

Extended Health Coaching – 6 months

Mental Wellbeing Coaching – 12 weeks

This is a real opportunity to go above and beyond for your people. Health coaching shows your people that you're not just here to help them figure out what might be wrong, but to empower them to take action.

Women's and men's health support

We're here for life's big challenges

Asking for help isn't always easy, particularly when it comes to intimate issues or conditions specific to men's and women's health. It can be difficult to discuss these concerns at work, and people may be reluctant to take time off to get the help they need. Our men's and women's health support services help employees connect easily and confidentially to expert support, education and guidance for the issues that are most important to them.

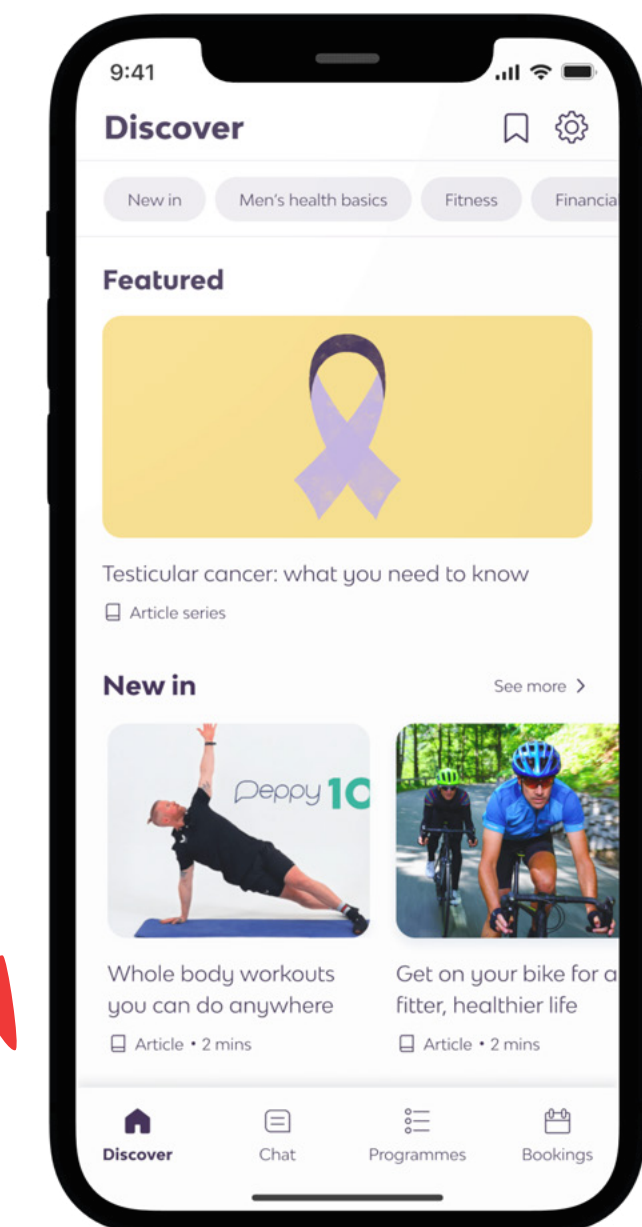

When you offer this service, an employee will be directed to the relevant available service, which we offer together with digital-health app, Peppy. These services enable your people to take control of their wellbeing in a way that's comfortable and fits into their busy lives.

Connecting your services

On adding any of these services, clear signposting will be added to the app to enable your people to move between services with ease.

Together with Peppy

What's included

Available to UK-based employees and family members. App users must be 18 or over. Service is subject to Peppy's fair use policy. Minimum 24-month term contract and minimum employee population of 2,000.

Early parenthood, fertility and menopause support

Here during life's most personal journeys

When it comes to planning a family, becoming a new parent or going through the menopause, it can be hard to know who to turn to for guidance and support. Working with digital-health app Peppy, we can offer your employees the power to find their way more confidently through life's most personal challenges.

Choose from fertility, early parenthood and menopause support to give your people direct access to expert support for the issues that really matter to them.

Crisis Call (critical incident management)

We're here for you in a crisis

Whether you're facing an incident that's hit the headlines, or something as shattering as a colleague bereavement, shared trauma can have a deep and long-lasting effect on your workplace. No matter how robust your business continuity planning may be, it's often the human aspect and the support you offer your people that proves the key to an effective personal, team and business recovery.

We'll help you build counselling and emotional support into your health and wellbeing programme – and we'll be there to support you and your workforce the moment you face a critical incident or trauma.

Supporting your ongoing success

If you have a corporate private healthcare scheme, an EAP or a wellbeing programme with us, you can also benefit from:

Communication support at every turn

Whether promoting available services or setting out an annual comms plan, we're here to both kickstart your strategy and help you maintain momentum with accessible, relevant content that will engage your people and motivate them to proactively manage their wellbeing.

Our Health and Wellbeing calendar connects you to our expert-curated wellbeing content and, crucially, enables you to plan ahead. You can utilise upcoming events to garner interest and align your wellbeing plans with our online content, which is free to explore, download and share across business units. It's all designed to help you keep health promotion timely, relevant and inspiring throughout the year.

Dedicated account management

Your dedicated account manager will get to know you and your business. They'll understand the ins and outs of your health and wellbeing programme and be your consistent point of contact, on hand to ensure you're getting all you can from each service. Just contact them with any questions or requirements.

Access to gym discounts

Our Huddle and Nuffield Health fitness offers make it easier for your employees to keep fit in a way that works for them. With offers available to your whole workforce, we'll support health engagement across your business. Terms apply.

Insight to fuel your strategy

What you can't measure you can't manage. Central to all services with AXA Health is rich management information to show usage, trends and return from your investment. Your account management team is here to provide guidance, so you can see year-on-year improvements.

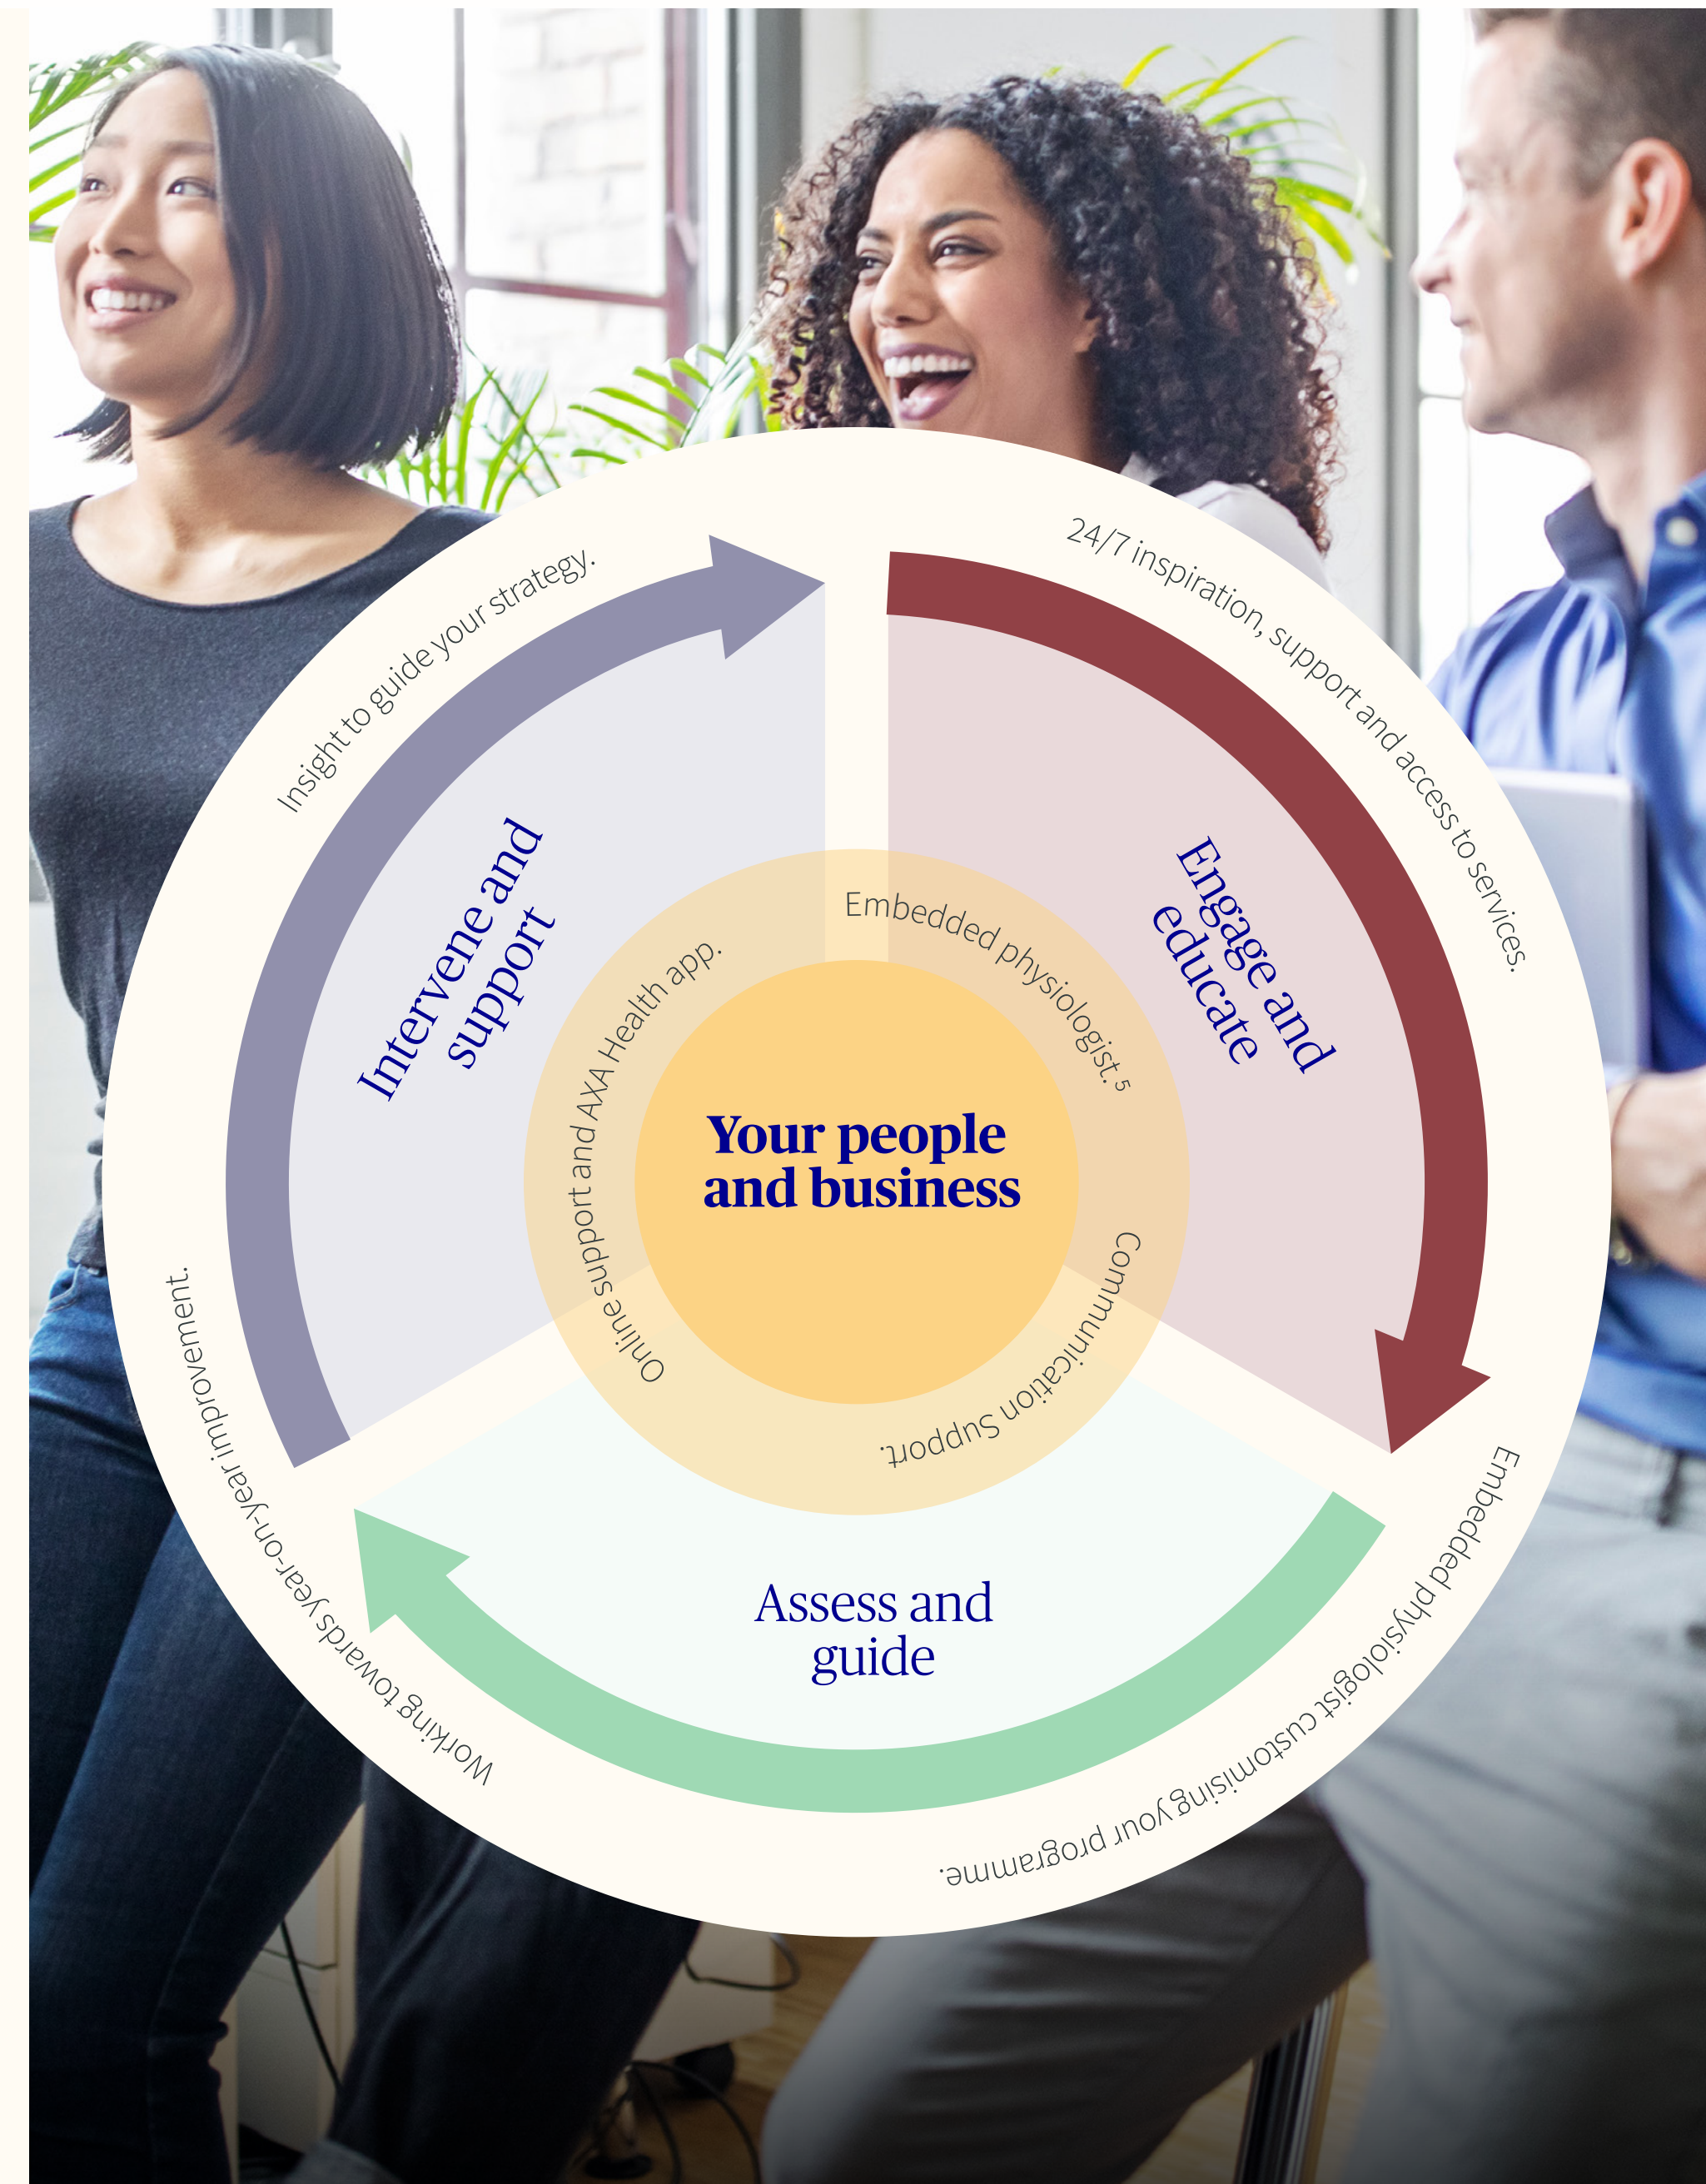

Embedded physiologist

We have a track record of success in supporting organisations of all sizes to deliver impactful programmes. You can add an expert into the heart of your organisation to deliver your wellbeing programme. We can offer you the option of embedding a dedicated physiologist into your team (on an FTE basis). You'll gain best practice learning and expert insight, coupled with increased appreciation and understanding of the unique nature of your business.

You'll be able to utilise their time to deliver across your programme. They can carry out assessments and coaching, as well as seminars and webinars, with the added advantage of flexibility – adjusting to the unique demands, needs and requirements as your strategy requires. A great way to further enhance and tailor your wellbeing programme, making it agile by design.

Consultancy to shape your programme

Whether seeking to review existing activity or implement a programme from scratch, our AXA Health Wellbeing Consultants can help you gain a fresh perspective.

Great for your people Great for your business

Based on real feedback

The art of the possible

Your people. Your business. Your culture.

Our experts will work with you to build a shared wellbeing ambition for your business, whether that's large or small, short-term or long-term. The sky's the limit.

If you're looking to combine services, here are a few examples of how we can help connect activity to support your goals.
